

Looking for a new job?

Attend the CAREER WORKSHOP

Job search strategies

Resume preparation

Interviewing skills

Networking

Practice interviews

These and other career-related topics will be presented in a series of one-hour workshops at the Villa Rica Library beginning at 6:30 PM on March 12, 2009.

Contact the Library for further information and to register your participation. Seat are limited, so call now 770-459-7012.

John Hannabach and Susan George will present a series of one-hour workshops focusing on individuals seeking assistance and support in their search for a new job. High school and college students may also benefit from attending these free sessions.

Mr. Hannabach is the owner and president of HANCON, a career coaching and consulting organization located in Villa Rica. He was a career consultant with Right Management Consultants, an international outplacement firm in Atlanta. Prior to that, Mr. Hannabach was the Director of Career Services at Georgia Tech, a position he held for 12 years. He was the Southern Regional Manager, General Electric Corporate Recruiting and University Relations.

Mr. Hannabach is a frequent presenter of career related materials having appeared on ABC Evening News with Peter Jennings as well as in numerous conferences nationally, regionally and locally. His articles on various career matters have also appeared nationally and locally. He writes a monthly column, Career Corner, for the Beacon Newsletter.

Susan George, a Sr. Generalist at Equifax, is an HR professional with 17 years in the field. Past experience includes Sr. Investigator for an EEOC deferral agency, Director of Staff Development, Account Manager for Randstad and Human Resources Manager. Having spent time on both sides of the hiring process, she is excited to share her experiences with professionals who have questions about Human Resources.